MUSEUM OF THE ROCKIES

Dear Anglers and Museum of the Rockies Supporters,

We are thrilled to invite you to participate in the 2018 Museum of the Rockies TwoFly Benefit, an extraordinary event unlike any other. As a planning committee, we think that this year's event, our eighth annual, will be the most exciting and fun yet.

This year we will send 35 boats - each with two participants and a guide - on a fully hosted and guided adventure to some of the most impressive fly-fishing rivers in the entire world. Participants will fish on rivers within a few hours of Bozeman, the Yellowstone, Madison, Jefferson, Missouri, or even private waters. These fisheries draw anglers from all over the world, and for good reason. They are accessible in our own backyard.

Whether you are an experienced angler, or have never touched a fly-rod, this event is for you.

Our elite guides are donating their time and energy to support the Museum of the Rockies and to help you find trophy trout ... or teach you fly-fishing basics ... or refine your double-haul technique. If you hope to head-hunt for a trophy brown trout, this event is for you. If you want to roll up your sleeves, soak up some sun, and enjoy the river scenery from the front of a drift boat, this event is for you.

And, even more than just the opportunity to fish with friends, family, or colleagues, this is a chance to come together in celebration of the Museum of the Rockies. This means there will be a pre-fishing celebration the evening of September 7th. Plus, after a full day of fishing on September 8th, you will enjoy cocktails and a banquet with awards, auction, raffle, prizes, and entertainment.

By participating, you will be supporting one of Montana's premier cultural and educational institutions, so that the Museum of the Rockies remains vibrant and accessible to all.

We are thrilled that you are considering joining us for this year's MOR TwoFly Benefit. As an entire planning committee, we look forward to seeing you on the water, in support of the Museum of the Rockies.

Sincerely,

Nick English

YOUR PARTICIPATION IN THE MOR TWOFLY FUNDS CRITICAL MOR PROGRAMMING

The mission of the Museum of the Rockies TwoFly Benefit is to foster community engagement with, and philanthropic support for, the Museum of the Rockies, through an annual fly fishing event that promotes education and good stewardship of our fisheries and the Greater Yellowstone ecosystem.

Each year, MOR hosts over 165,000 visitors. About two-thirds of these visitors are from Montana and about one-half of them are children. MOR is a critical resource for information, education, and engagement, for schoolchildren from public, private, tribal, or home schools who receive free admission to the Museum when visiting as part of an organized field trip through the Opening Doors for Montana Schoolchildren fund. Additionally, MOR serves as a valuable economic driver for the Gallatin Valley and the State of Montana.

Your MOR TwoFly boat entry, sponsorship, or other donation directly benefits the Museum of the Rockies, and “All Things Yellowstone.” In July of 2010, MOR opened the Explore Yellowstone: Martin Children’s Discovery Center. This 4000 square foot Yellowstone-themed exhibit is geared toward children from birth to 8 years old. The Discovery Center introduces them to the wonders of the Greater Yellowstone ecosystem and America’s first national park. It is a hands-on, immersive environment that empowers them to discover and fuel a lifelong passion for nature, science, and the Yellowstone experience.

It even features the popular “fishing bridge” where children learn to fill out a Montana fishing license, fish for native and non-native species, measure their catch, and release it back to the river.

Your participation in the MOR TwoFly event encourages our youngest visitors to lead with their imaginations, and explore without limitation on their path of lifelong learning. Additionally, your participation in the MOR TwoFly helps support important programs like the MOR TwoFly Family Day.

THE MOR TWOFLY FAMILY DAY PROMOTES COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT

While MOR TwoFly participants are exploring Montana's rivers and searching for trout, we invite all members of the community to join us for MOR TwoFly Family Day. This free event takes place at the museum and is open to the public.

We are inviting the community, parents and children, to come together for fun, fishing, and education. Kids will have a blast when learning how to cast a fly-rod, tie flies, and identify fish species. This event is designed to inspire kids to get outside and instill a lifelong appreciation of our local fisheries and the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem.

We hope that the kids at this year's MOR TwoFly Family Day will discover a love for fly-fishing, and eventually participate in the MOR TwoFly itself.
